The IGS National Advisory Council is responsible for providing guidance and direction to advance the Institute's development and outreach efforts. Membership is composed of distinguished individuals representing the corporate, philanthropy, non-profit, professional, and academic sectors that are affiliated with the IGS mission.

UC Berkeley Institute of Governmental Studies
109 Moses Hall # 2370
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720-2370
(510) 642-1474

igs.berkeley.edu
William (Bill) Brandt, Jr. Chairman

William Brandt has been in the business of workout, turnaround and insolvency consulting for almost thirty years and is widely recognized as one of the foremost practitioners in the field. He is President and CEO of Development Specialists, Inc. ("DSI"), a firm specializing in the provision of management, consulting and turnaround assistance to troubled or reorganizing enterprises. Mr. Brandt has advised Congress on matters of insolvency and bankruptcy policy, and in that capacity was the principal author of the amendment to the Bankruptcy Code permitting the election of trustees in Chapter 11 cases. During the Clinton administration, he served as a member of the President’s National Finance Board as well as serving as a delegate from the State of Florida to the 1996 Democratic National Convention. In 2000, he served as a member of the Democratic Party’s Platform Committee. Previously, Mr. Brandt served several terms as a member of the Board of Directors of the American Bankruptcy Institute; served for almost 20 years as a member of the private Panel of Trustees for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois; and briefly served as a member of the same panel for the Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of Florida in the late 1980s. Mr. Brandt is a governing member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, a former Governing Member of the Sustaining Fellows of the Art Institute of Chicago and a life trustee of Fenwick High School in Oak Park, Illinois. By Gubernatorial appointment, Mr. Brandt is serving his second consecutive term as Chair of the Illinois Finance Authority, having been first appointed in 2007 and then reappointed in 2010. The IFA is one of the nation’s largest self-financed entities principally engaged in issuing taxable and tax-exempt bonds, making loans, and investing capital for businesses, non-profit organizations and local government. The Governor has also appointed Mr. Brandt to the Illinois Broadband Deployment Council, which works to ensure that advanced telecommunications services are available to all the citizens of Illinois.

Peter A. Brightbill (’87)

Peter Brightbill, Senior Director of Government Relations, started working with Wells Fargo in 1998; he is based in San Francisco. In this role, he is responsible for managing the organization’s state legislative and political agendas in California. Additional responsibilities include providing counsel to the company’s senior executive management in public policy, legislative, community and political activities. Prior to joining Wells Fargo, Peter served in various management and policy positions in California state government. He also served on the White House staff of two U.S. Presidents. Peter received his degree in political science from the University of California at Berkeley. He is a member of the University of California Alumni Association, the California Chamber Public Affairs Council and a former member of the John Muir Hospital Foundation Board of Directors.

Kelly C. Calkin (’00)

Kelly Calkin has worked in California politics on the local, state and federal levels for over a decade. Mr. Calkin currently manages his own political consulting firm called Calkin Public Affairs. Prior to his own firm, Kelley served as Director of Political Resources at PG&E, as the Political Director for the Personal Insurance Federation of California (PIFC) and the California Professional Firefighters (CPF) handling statewide political programs that combines grassroots political action, fundraising, independent expenditures and statewide election strategy. Mr.
Calkin graduated, with honors, from UC Berkeley in Political Science and lives in Sacramento with his wife, Leslie.

C. Bryan Cameron
Bryan Cameron is co-director of research for Dodge & Cox, an investment management firm in San Francisco, with over $180 billion in assets under management. Mr. Cameron graduated with a BA in Economics from UC Davis in 1980 and a MBA from Stanford University in 1983. At the University of California at Berkeley, Mr. Cameron has served as a Trustee of the UC Berkeley Foundation and as President of the Bear Backer (Cal Athletics) Board of Directors.

Christopher Carr ['90, JD '94, PhD '04]
Chris Carr is a partner at the firm of Morrison & Foerster LLP. Based in the firm’s San Francisco office, he is the co-chair of the firm’s Land Use and Environmental Group. Mr. Carr represents public agencies, landowners, private individuals, and business concerns in all areas of natural resource law, including energy, water, forestry, agriculture, mining, fisheries, land use, and real property. He specializes in litigation and permitting under the federal Endangered Species Act, the Clean Water Act, the National Environmental Policy Act, and their California counterparts. Prior to going into private practice, Mr. Carr served as Special Assistant to Joseph L. Sax, Counselor to the U.S. Department of State’s Office of Marine Conservation, where he represented the United States in international fishery and ocean resource negotiations. Mr. Carr serves on the City of San Francisco’s Clean Technology Advisory Council, the Wine Institute’s Public Policy Committee, the California Forestry Association’s Legal Affairs Committee, and the California Construction and Industrial Material Association’s Environment Committee. Mr. Carr received his B.A. (history), J.D., and Ph.D. (jurisprudence and social policy) from UC Berkeley. He has been a lecturer on environmental law at Boalt and has served on UC Berkeley’s Library Advisory Board.

David A. Carrillo ['91, JD ’95, LL.M ’07, JSD ’11]
David A. Carrillo joined the Berkeley Law faculty as the founding Executive Director of the California Constitution Center in 2012. The center is devoted to developing scholarship concerning the California Constitution and the California Supreme Court. Dr. Carrillo has been awarded four degrees by the University of California at Berkeley: a J.S.D. (2011), an LL.M. (2007), a J.D. (1995), and a B.A. (1991). In addition to operating the center, he has taught or co-taught several courses at Berkeley Law School. Dr. Carrillo was in active practice for 16 years, and prevailed in many trial court judgments and appellate decisions in state and federal court. He served as a Deputy Attorney General with the California Department of Justice, where as a member of the Employment and Administrative Mandate Section he represented state agencies in civil litigation, writs of mandate and administrative proceedings on issues of statewide importance in state and federal courts. Before joining the California Attorney General’s Office, Dr. Carrillo served as a Deputy City Attorney in San Francisco and Deputy District Attorney in Contra Costa County. Dr. Carrillo actively participates in the state and local bar, and is a life member of the La Raza Lawyers Association and the Hispanic National Bar Association. He previously served on the State Bar of California Commission on Judicial Nominees Evaluation, and currently serves on the San Francisco and Alameda County Bar Association committees on judicial appointments. Dr. Carrillo also currently serves on the board of the Boalt Hall Alumni Association, and the National Advisory Council of the Institute of Governmental Studies.

David K. Chai ['93]

David Chai currently serves as a special assistant to UC Berkeley Chancellor Nick Dirks. Prior to this assignment, Chai worked for UC Berkeley’s Government Affairs and at Platinum Advisors. In the past, Chai worked in the White House during the Clinton Administration as Deputy Press Secretary and Special Projects Director for Management & Administration. His campaign experience includes serving as the Assistant Deputy Campaign Manager and Chief Operating Officer (COO) for the Clinton/Gore 1996 presidential campaign. Chai has worked in Policy and Communications for three governors and two mayors: Governor Edward Rendell in Pennsylvania, Governor Gray Davis in California and Governor Gary Locke in Washington; in addition to Mayor Gavin Newsom, he also worked for the Mayor of New York, Michael Bloomberg and Mayor Ron Dellums. David Chai has a B.A. in Sociology from the University of California, Berkeley.

Pamela S. Duffy

Ms. Duffy is an attorney who focuses on commercial real estate, land use, and development, with a special expertise in large public and private entity transactions. She has acted as principal counsel for numerous major development projects and real estate transactions, including the two largest development projects in San Francisco.

Ms. Duffy represents clients in the acquisition, planning, construction, and sale of major developments. Because of her in-depth understanding of the long-term implications of development she is particularly noted for her ability to help find effective and feasible solutions to the challenges that arise in complex public/private projects.

She counsels clients as varied as Millennium Partners, Forest City Enterprises, Farallon Capital Management, eBay Inc., the San Francisco 49ers and the San Francisco Giants. Ms. Duffy was lead counsel on the 300-acre San Francisco Mission Bay development project, the 18-acre Burlingame Point waterfront biotech center, the downtown San Francisco Westfield Center, and most recently, the 1.8 million square foot mixed-use 5M infill project in downtown San Francisco and California Pacific Medical Center’s $2 billion, 5-campus hospital redevelopment.

Ms. Duffy graduated with honors from California State University, Los Angeles in 1970 and earned her law degree, cum laude, from Loyola University, Los Angeles, in 1978. While at Loyola, she was elected to the St. Thomas More Law Honor Society and served as a lead Articles Editor of the Loyola Law Review.

In addition to serving on the National Advisory Council of the Institute of Governmental Studies at U.C. Berkeley. Ms. Duffy has served as a visiting lecturer at Yale Law School, the Harvard Law School, UCLA Law School, the MIT Graduate School of Urban Planning, Stanford Law School, the Practicing Law Institute, Southern Methodist University Law School, the Urban Land Institute, the California Building Industry Foundation and other professional organizations. In 2015 and 2016, she taught an undergraduate seminar in the political science department at UC Berkeley.

Ms. Duffy’s ability has been often recognized. The National Law Journal named her among 75 Outstanding Women Lawyers in 2015. Among the honors are: Chambers and Partners’ Women in Law Awards 2013 and 2012 Real Estate Lawyer of the Year, and consistently recognized by Chambers USA as a leader in the real estate law category; Best Lawyer’s 2016 San Francisco Lawyer of the Year for Real Estate Law, and ranked for the last 20 years as one of the Best Lawyers in America; the Daily Journal’s Top 50 Development Lawyers in 2014, and the Top 100 Lawyers in California in 2011 and 2010; the San Francisco Business Times 100 Most Influential Women in Bay Area Business for six consecutive years (2005-2010), then honored as a Forever Influential Woman in 2011; and the California Real Estate Journal’s Dealmaker of the Year in 2009 for her work on the Public Health Service Hospital conversion project at the San Francisco Presidio.

Ms. Duffy is recognized as a distinguished alum of Loyola Law School and as one of 50 Inspirational Alumni in 2015. She is a chosen member of the Pacific Council on International Policy, the American College of Real Estate Lawyers and Lambda Alpha International, as well as the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights of the San Francisco Bay Area. She is a member of a select group of women in Martindale-Hubbell’s Bar Register of Preeminent Women Lawyers. Ms. Duffy has served as a director of the public television station KQED, Inc., the Exploratorium, the Margaret Jenkins Dance Co., the United Cerebral Palsy Association, San Francisco Planning and Urban Research (SPUR), the City Club and the Telegraph Hill Neighborhood Center. In 2015, she was a member of the San Francisco Mayor’s Housing Working Group.

Shaudi Falamaki Fulp [‘04]

Shaudi Falamaki Fulp is the founding principal of the Fidens Group where she manages political and public affairs strategies for private and public sector clients including Fortune 500 companies, trade associations, business and labor coalitions, start-ups, and nonprofit organizations.

Prior to launching the Fidens Group, Shaudi was the Chief Advocate of Policy, Government, and Public Affairs for a Fortune 5 company headquartered in California. In this role she developed and implemented local and state level public affairs programs, and effectively advocated on a broad range of issues before the legislative and executive branches of government. With expertise in energy, environmental, land use, transportation, budget and tax policies, she has negotiated some of the state’s marquee laws in these areas, and advised company executives on various internal initiatives, including the acquisition and integration of a new business unit. She also chaired various political action committees that successfully elected bipartisan legislators to state and local office.

Previously, Shaudi represented clients at California’s premier advocacy and public relations firm, KP Public Affairs, and served on Mayor of Sacramento Kevin Johnson’s Transition Team. Shaudi started her career in television news, where she covered the California State Capitol and the inaugural term of former Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger for both local and national affiliates.

Shaudi is a graduate of UC-Berkeley, where she earned a Masters in Political Science and undergraduate degrees in Legal Studies and Political Psychology. As an active alumna, she serves on the Institute of Governmental Studies National Advisory Council, the Dean of Students’ Advisory Council, and various scholarship committees. She is a frequent on-air political commentator and guest lecturer for public policy, business, law, and political science courses at UC-Berkeley, Stanford, Pepperdine, and the University of Southern California.

Laiza Garcia
Laiza Garcia currently serves as the PAC Director with the California Association of REALTORS® handling the political resources for one of the top trade associations in the state. Before joining CRE-PAC, Laiza worked for the New York State Assembly and the Council of State Governments, Western Office. She is a graduate of Cal State Sacramento and lives in Sacramento.

William (Bill) E. Grayson
William (“Bill”) E. Grayson is Senior Advisor at Bernstein Global Wealth Management and was prior the President of Falcon Point Capital, LLC. Prior to Falcon Point, Bill was a Vice President at both J.P. Morgan and Montgomery Securities. Bill served as the Principal Deputy General Counsel of the Army in Washington D.C. during the first Bush Administration. While in the Pentagon he had oversight of the Army’s 2,700 civilian and military lawyers worldwide and focused on regulatory law, mergers & acquisitions, litigation and defense contracting issues. For his service, he was awarded the Outstanding Civilian Service Medal by the Secretary of the Army. Bill has served on the boards of directors of the following organizations: Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholar, Dominican University and the investment committee of the Archdiocese of San Francisco. In 2002, Bill was appointed by President Bush to serve on the President’s Commission on White House Fellowships and served as a commissioner until 2008. Bill graduated from St. Ignatius College Preparatory, received his B.A. from the University of California, Santa Barbara, and his law degree from the University of San Francisco.

Peter D. Hart
For more than 35 years, Peter Hart has been one of the leading analysts of public opinion in the United States. Since 1971, he has directed Peter D. Hart Research Associates, which has conducted more than 6000 public opinion surveys that have included interviews among more than five million individuals. Hart Research also has undertaken more than 5000 focus group sessions. Mr. Hart currently serves as Chairman Emeritus of Hart Research and as Senior Counselor to the McGinn Group. Mr. Hart built his reputation on his successful work in politics, working for more than 30 U.S. senators and 30 governors, but his focus over the last 20 years has been on public policy, cultural and social issues, and strategic consulting work for corporations. Corporate clients have included Boeing, Time Warner, American Airlines, Coca-Cola, Microsoft, AT&T, and Tiffany and Company. His work in the non-profit field includes research for Habitat for Humanity, the ACLU, The Smithsonian Institution, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Internationally, Mr. Hart has conducted studies in South America, Europe, Asia, and Africa. Over the past decade, Mr. Hart has taught courses in public policy at Duke University’s Sanford Institute of Public Policy, the University of Pennsylvania’s Annenberg School for Communication, and at UC Berkeley.

Dan Lindheim [’68, MPH/MCP ’72, PhD ’86]

Dan Lindheim is an economist, planner, software developer, and attorney. Until 2011, Dan was City Administrator for the City of Oakland. He previously headed Oakland’s Community and Economic Development Agency. In prior lives, Dan was a World Bank economist as well as senior advisor to Congressman Ron Dellums and to the House of Representatives Armed Services and District Committees. Dan spent over a decade in the private sector as President and CEO of two leading high tech software companies in the professional video, animation, special effects, and scientific visualization markets. Early in his professional life, Dan headed a multi-province regional development office for the Chilean Ministry of Housing and Urban Development and taught at the University of Chile. Dan was also a researcher at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Services Research and Development. Active in the local community, Dan was long-time Chair of the Planning and Oversight Committee for the Berkeley school district and continues to serve on the Audit Committee for both Berkeley and Oakland school districts. Dan was co-chair of two successful school parcel tax campaigns in Berkeley, was a Board member of the Berkeley Community Fund, and was Chair of the Education Committee and Foreman pro tem of the Alameda County Grand Jury, in addition to serving on many other boards and commissions. Finally, Dan was a state champion youth soccer coach, played tennis for Cal, and as a union electrician installed every speaker in the Oakland Coliseum. Dan has a PhD in City and Regional Planning from UC Berkeley, a law degree from Georgetown, and is a member of the California Bar. Dan also has a BA in economics and masters’ degrees in city planning and public health, all from UC Berkeley.

Steven S. Lucas

Steven Lucas is a partner at Nielsen Merksamer specializing in political law, including campaign, election, lobby and ethics laws in various federal, state and local jurisdictions. He specializes in state and local ballot measures, non-profit law, and maintains a 50 state national compliance practice in the area of campaign and lobby law. Since 2003, Mr. Lucas has served on the Board of Directors of Stillwater Mining Company (NYSE:SWC), a company that mines platinum and palladium in Montana and is developing gold, PGM and copper mines in Canada and Argentina. Mr. Lucas previously served at the appointment of the Governor of California as Chairman of the Bipartisan Commission on the Political Reform Act. He is a past president of the California Political Attorneys Association. He has also served on the California Secretary of State’s Task Force on Online Disclosure as well as the FPPC Chairman’s Advisory Task Force. Before joining the firm and following his clerkship with Chief Justice Malcolm Lucas of the California Supreme Court, he practiced corporate litigation in the Los Angeles office of Sullivan & Cromwell. During that time he served as Counsel to the Webster Commission, appointed by the Los Angeles Police Commission to investigate the LAPD’s preparedness for and response to the Los Angeles riots. Mr. Lucas received his law degree from Harvard Law School, magna cum laude, where he was cross-enrolled at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Institute of Press, Politics and Public Policy. He received a B.A. in Economics/Business from UCLA.

Katie Merrill
Katie Merrill is a Democratic strategist and president of The Merrill Strategy Group, a California-based political consulting firm. Over the course of her nearly 20-year career, Merrill has advised Democratic campaigns for Governor, U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, state legislative candidates and statewide initiative campaigns, Democratic organizations and environmental, labor, and other public advocacy groups. Merrill has worked on numerous statewide campaigns in California. In 2012, she served as general consultant for the Yes on 35 anti-human trafficking initiative and was part of the consulting team for Yes on 39 Close the Corporate Loophole. She also oversaw the successful statewide field campaign against Proposition 23 on the November 2010 ballot. Merrill has served as a strategist for campaigns for various statewide offices, including Governor, U.S. Senate, Attorney General, and Superintendent of Public Instruction. In 2000, Merrill served as the State Director for Bill Bradley for President. Merrill managed former Congresswoman Ellen Tauscher's first campaign in 1996, winning an upset over a Republican incumbent, and was Rep. Tauscher's first Chief of Staff on Capitol Hill. Merrill began her career as a grassroots organizer for Senator Boxer's groundbreaking U.S. Senate campaign in 1992. She is a graduate of Amherst College and lives near Berkeley, California.

Eugene “Mitch” Mitchell
Eugene “Mitch” Mitchell is vice president of state government affairs for San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E) and Southern California Gas Co. (SoCalGas), Sempra Energy’s California regulated utilities. Based in Sacramento, Mitchell is responsible for state governmental affairs for both California utilities. Prior to his current position, Mitchell was regional vice president of external affairs, responsible for public affairs and external affairs activities for SDG&E. Prior to joining SDG&E in 2005, Mitchell served as vice president of public policy and communications at the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce where he worked with the Chamber’s members and diverse volunteer base to develop a public policy agenda that is favorable to the business climate and standard of living in San Diego. He was also in charge of representing the Chamber and its members' public policy positions to local, state and federal officials. Previously, Mitchell was director of governmental relations for American Medical Response, the nation’s largest ambulance transportation firm. From 1996 to 1997, he served as assistant director of governmental relations for the San Diego Mayor's Office under Mayor Susan Golding, overseeing the city’s legislative priorities and advising the mayor on policy issues. Prior to working at the mayor's office, Mitchell was the director of governmental relations for the San Diego City Fire Fighters Local 145 IAFF, one of the city’s largest labor unions. Mitchell is an active member of the community. He has served for several years on the board of directors for the San Diego Food Bank and the Children’s Museum, and he was previously on the boards of the San Diego Opera and Burn Institute. Mitchell is also a governor’s appointee to the Little Hoover Commission. Mitchell earned his bachelor’s degree in political science from University of Redlands.

Christopher Patterson
Chris Patterson has over 10 years of experience working in government, politics, public affairs, and non-profit sectors. He is currently the Political Director of the California Professional Firefighters (CPF), the statewide organization representing 30,000 emergency responders. In this capacity, Chris directs CPF’s strategies related to federal, state and local candidate elections, manages independent expenditure and ballot measure campaigns, and helps oversee CPF’s state legislative program. Prior to joining CPF, Chris ran his own public affairs business focused on health care, worked as a Strategist for the political consulting firm JPM&G, Inc., and served as Communications Director for the California Primary Care Association. Chris also served as Deputy Political Director for State Treasurer Phil Angelides’ campaign for Governor in 2006, and, prior to that, served as a staff aid in Governor Gray Davis’ Appointments Office. Chris graduated with honors with a Bachelors Degree in Political Science from the University of California at Davis. Chris and his wife, Andie, live in Sacramento and have a 2-year old daughter named Lucia.

Heather Podesta ['93]
Heather Podesta, who launched the cutting-edge government relations firm, Heather Podesta + Partners, in January 2007, is a leading legislative and public policy strategist with experience on Capitol Hill and in the private sector. Heather Podesta + Partners was recently named one of DC’s top 50 government relations firms by The National Law Journal. Podesta has guided clients from Fortune 500 companies to non-profits to success in Congress and the Executive Branch. Providing common-sense advice on issues ranging from education, health care, and technology to tax and trade policy, her work has been highlighted in several major media outlets, with profiles in The Washington Post and The Wall Street Journal. Legal Times recently named her one of the Top 10 “Leading Lawyers in Government Affairs.” Podesta previously worked for several U.S. Members of Congress on the tax writing committees, including the late Representative Robert Matsui (D-CA), Representative Earl Pomeroy (D-ND), and Senator Bill Bradley (D-NJ). Podesta is an active Democratic organizer and political adviser to many elected officials in Washington, DC and in state capitals across the nation. She is a Trustee of the National Museum of Women in the Arts, serves on the Advisory Board of the Peggy Guggenheim Collection, and is also on the Washington DC Police Foundation Board. Podesta graduated with a BA from UC Berkeley in 1993.

Jon Ross ['83]
Jon Ross is a partner at KP Public Affairs. He joined the firm in 1996. He is a registered lobbyist and lawyer. He has specific expertise in financial services law and regulation, and has played a leading role in managing the financial services industry’s response to a number of critical issues, including legislative efforts to regulate financial privacy, credit card marketing and outsourcing. Mr. Ross has also lobbied on a host of issues important to small businesses, including state wage and hour laws and regulations, workers compensation reform, and efforts to curb frivolous lawsuits. Mr. Ross leads the firm’s lobbying effort for financial services clients, including Citigroup, General Electric, the California Mortgage Bankers Association, and Genworth Financial. He also is the firm’s principal advisor to the California Restaurant Association, and lead lobbyist for the Hertz Corporation and Google. Prior to joining KP, Mr. Ross was a partner at the San Francisco law firm, Landels, Ripley and Diamond. There, he specialized in corporate, real estate and financial services law. In 1996, Mr. Ross, Eric Newman and Fred Pownall merged their legislative practice with Kahl Associates, forming KP. Mr. Ross graduated from U.C. Berkeley with a degree in Political Economy of Industrial Societies. He received a law degree from the University of Santa Clara, where he served as the Research Editor of the Santa Clara Law Review. While in law school, Mr. Ross worked as a judicial extern for California Supreme Court Justice Cruz Reynoso.
Duf Sundheim
Duf Sundheim has been active in Republican Party politics since he served as a page in the Illinois State Legislature at age 18. Mr. Sundheim’s focus has been government reform and increased citizen participation in the political process. As Chairman of the California Republican Party (2003-07), Duf played a critical role in the only successful recall of a sitting governor in modern history. He also led a a voter registration effort which the Republican National Committee recognized as the best in the nation and led to the smallest differential between Republicans and Democrats since the Great Depression and enabled Governor Schwarzenegger to set modern records for the percentage of women and minorities that voted for a Republican. Recently Mr. Sundheim played a key role in the adoption of the new Redistricting and Open Primary systems. Among his other activities, Mr. Sundheim currently is working on government pension reform measures and regularly appears on national and regional television shows as a political commentator. Mr. Sundheim received his B.A. in Economics with Honors and Distinction from Stanford University and received his J.D. from Northwestern University Law School. He is also a recipient of the California State Bar Pro Bono Award.

Susie Swatt
Susie Swatt was Communications Director for the California Fair Political Practices Commission and has authored three highly acclaimed reports detailing the influence of money in the political process. Her report, “Independent Expenditures: The Giant Gorilla in Campaign Finance,” was awarded a 2009 ProPublica Prize for Investigative Governance. Before joining the FPPC, Ms. Swatt served for more than 30 years in the California Legislature. She was Chief of Staff to the Senate and Assembly minority leaders; Special Consultant to the Senate Rules Committee; and was considered a leading expert on all election and political reform issues. While serving in the Senate, she was appointed to membership on the Bipartisan Commission on Internet Practices, the McPherson Commission on the Political Reform Act, and Leadership California. During her tenure in the Legislature, she played critical roles in numerous public policy achievements – including elevating the Newsman’s Shield Law to the California Constitution, creating the 12,000 acre Chino Hills State Park in Southern California, and requiring paper trails for electronic voting machines. Ms. Swatt attended UC Berkeley for three years and graduated with honors in history from Sacramento State University. She and her husband are active members in the California Alumni Association and Bear Backers.

Alan Unger
Alan Unger has over 40 years of experience working with public and private sector organizations - both domestic and international - managing projects and providing strategic planning and guidance in the areas of public policy, marketing and communications. He worked with a number of California public affairs and governmental organizations including the Canadian Foreign Ministry’s San Francisco Consulate, managing the political-economic, media, and academic relations activities for six western states. For four years, he directed internationally recognized civil society - public education and information programs in the former Soviet republics of Ukraine, Moldova, and Russia. He has worked on a number of presidential political campaigns and in Congress as well as state and local efforts. Together with his wife Ruby Unger, they established Unger Educational Media that has produced eight award-winning educational films over the past 20 years. Currently, he is engaged in several international projects with universities and governments both domestic and international as well as directing the activities of the Unger Family Foundation. At U.C. Berkeley's Institute of Governmental Studies he helped establish a North American Futures symposium series, coordinating a 2010 conference on the Berkeley campus, in 2012 with partners at the University of British Columbia, and a potential third in 2015. He also coordinated an effort to examine international democracy transitions, organizing a major conference titled Democracy Rising, an effort with six-campus co-sponsors lead by IGS as part of an ongoing symposium examining democratic transitions. After successfully establishing university based public management and civil society programs in Croatia through the Unger Foundation, he is guiding a revision of the foundation’s activities and those with Cleveland State University’s Levin College and in California. At home in Mill Valley he recently retired as a board member at The Redwoods, a model retirement community, and continues to devote time as an active Redwoods volunteer as well as with other organizations.

Linda Yeung

Linda Yeung currently serves as the Director of People, Performance and Development at the San Francisco International Airport. Yeung’s government, private and nonprofit experience included Deputy City Administrator for the City and County of San Francisco, as well as positions in the San Francisco Controller’s Office, Southern California Edison, Rebuild LA, Linda Griego for Mayor campaign, Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley’s Office, and Office of U.S. Trade Representative. Yeung has been honored to participate in the Leadership America program and United Nations Global Platform for Disaster Risk Reduction in Geneva, Switzerland. She was the recipient of the John Gardner Public Service Fellowship, Coro Foundation Public Affairs Fellowship, Patricia Roberts Harris Public Service Fellowship, and Phi Beta Kappa. She graduated from U.C. Berkeley with a double major in Political Science and Oriental Languages and completed her Masters in Law and Diplomacy degree at the Fletcher School, Tufts University. Yeung is married and has two wonderful children.

Ex-officio

Jack Citrin ['70 PhD]

Professor Citrin is currently the Heller Professor of Political Science at the University of California Berkeley and serves as the Director of the Institute of Governmental Studies. He has taught at Berkeley since 1969 and during that time has held administrative appointments as Director of the State Data Program, Acting Director of the Survey Research Center, Faculty Athletics’ Representative to the NCAA, and Faculty Director of the Berkeley Washington Program. Professor Citrin has testified as an expert before legislative committees and served on Advisory Committees of the National Academy of Sciences. He teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics and political psychology and in 2004-05 was a finalist for the Distinguished Teaching Award on the Berkeley campus. Professor Citrin’s writings include The Politics of Disaffection among American and British Youth (1969), written with David Elkins, Tax Revolt (1982, revised 1985), written with David O. Sears, California and the American Tax Revolt (1984), and How Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration Shape the California Electorate (2002), written with Ben Highton, as well as numerous articles and book chapters. His most recent books are: Public Opinion and Constitutional Controversies (Oxford
Christine Treadway

Ms. Treadway is the Assistant Vice Chancellor- Government and Community Relations at the University of California, Berkeley. A public policy professional with 23 years of experience working on higher education issues in government and university positions, Ms. Treadway manages a team of external relations staff who represent the University with policy makers at the federal, state and local level. In this position she serves as a political advisor to senior campus leaders and oversees a comprehensive governmental relations portfolio including legislative, budgetary, regulatory, and advocacy strategies. Ms. Treadway has an extensive policy background working on higher education issues in several positions in the U.S. House of Representatives. She served as the Senior Advisor on Higher Education for the House Education and Labor Committee, and was a Legislative Assistant for the House Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education. She also served as a Legislative Assistant on education issues for Congressman Pat Williams (D- MT). She holds a B.S. degree in Political Science and International Relations from Montana State University. Prior to her position at UC Berkeley, Ms. Treadway was the Director of Government and Community Relations at San Francisco State University for 12 years. She also served as Assistant Director of the California State University Office of Federal Relations in Washington, DC.